Title: An act to limit the amount of nuclear weapons a country may show possession to.

BE IT HEREBY ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Justification Clause:

Right now, there is no limit on the nuclear weapons a country is aloud to claim possession to, but we are encouraging all nations to have a limit on nuclear weapons. Russia and the United States of America have the most nuclear weapons. Russia has 8,500 weapons and the US has 7,700. China, France, United Kingdom, Pakistan, India and Isreal all have more than North Korea. That is not fair. We are not very prepared if a circumstance comes in which we need nuclear weapons. Right now we have about 10 weapons.

Section I: The amount of nuclear weapons a country may have will be 950.

Section II: The excess nuclear weapons from the countries that have too many will have their weapons donated to the United Nations, or safely and properly disarmed.

Section III: This will go into effect one year after passage, to ensure time for countries to disarm the weapons or give them to the United Nations.
