Title: An act to enforce a maximum income tax rate of twenty five percent (25%).

BE IT HEREBY ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Justification Clause: Approximately eighty seven (87) countries within the United Nations have an income tax rate over twenty five percent (25%), ranging up to fifty percent (50%). Due to this astonishing rate of taxes, people are unable to live adequate lifestyles. With the growing demand of taxes being forced on civilians, paying for one's lifestyle can often be hard and unmanageable. It can also damage the economy increase poverty rates.

Section I- This proposal will lower income tax rates of countries within the United Nations that have a tax rate higher than 25%.

Section II- An income tax rate is the percentage of your income that a government takes in taxes. In the United States, the average income tax rate is 17%, thus the United States takes 17% of your income, or total money made from your job each year.

Section III- Lowering the income tax rate will give people more money in their pocketbook, therefore they can pay for everyday necessities that they may not be able to otherwise.

Section IV- If a participating nation does not meet the requirements in Section I and fails to lower tax rates within two (2) years of implementation, the U.N. country will be placed on probation and the ambassador of the country will lose voting rights. If the country continues to fail to lower taxes within the next 6 months, they will be suspended from the United Nations until they meet the requirements.

Section V- This proposal will be enforced by the Department of Economics and Social Affairs (DESA) and the Security Council.

Sections VI- This bill will have no cost.

Section VII- This proposal will go into effect within one (1) year of passage.
