1 An act to improve race relations between Native Fijians and Indians

2
3 Be it hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the United Nations

4
5 Justification Clause: In the late 1800's British settlers brought workers from India to work on sugar
6 plantations. Over time, natives were being overwhelmed by expanding numbers of Indians. In recent years,
7 conflicts have arisen over balances in power between the groups, which led to coups and loss of life. As
8 recently as 2009, there was a Fijian Constitutional Crisis.

9
10 Section I: Send a Fijian Peace-Keeping Committee to observe and make recommendations to the government
11 to reduce racial tension therefore improving the lives of all.

12
13 Section II: The government of Fiji would provide housing (room & board) and transportation to the committee
14 members during the stay.

15
16 Section III: The United Nations should approve the committee for a period of two years. A review process
17 would be used to determine whether future assistance would be required.

18
19 Section IV: The committee's duties would include, but not be limited to: visiting major islands, promoting 20 social equality, helping to form community groups to educate future generations/leaders, adding social
21 responsibility classes in schools, observe & advise local/national leaders. Venues should include: city centers,
22 schools, churches and rugby events.

23
24 Section V: Committee members should include: former heads of state/leaders, sociologists, psychologist,
25 communications specialists, education specialists.

26
27 Section VI: Be it hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the United Nations, 30 days following passage.
