An act to require schools to teach self-sustaining classes.

Be it enacted by the Youth Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky

Section 1: Schools will be required to teach self sustaining/survival classes. The average American doesn't know the basic skill sets and how to live in a natural environment, such as growing our own food, making a fire, making a shelter, making fair trades with people, finding fresh water, and using certain resources for medicines.

Section 2: Schools should teach the survival class for a minimum of one 9 weeks course during high school. This course could be taught within another course already taught.

Section 3: To help pay for this bill, we can partner with and secure funding from Kentucky businesses such as Yum, Cabellas, Amazon, and Humana.

Section 4: This bill will go into effect for the 2018-2019 school year.
